THE American school girl has taken the World's Fair.

THE Prohibition State Convention will be held at Cleveland, June 28th and 29th.

THE American tin plate joke is to be preserved in comic opera. There is nothing left for McKinley but to look like Napoleon and say nothing.—New York World.

SENATOR SHERMAN, whose silver bill is now being damned with great fervor by both political parties, has moved into his new residence, which is one of the finest in Washington.

THE coming Democratic State convention will be the largest in the history of the state, in the number of delegates, 868. Stark county is entitled to 20 delegates, the same as Lucas.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND and his cabinet held a long consultation yesterday on the monetary situation. It was decided not to call an extra session of Congress until early in September.

AN organized effort, not confined to party, is being effected to defeat Food and Dairy Commissioner McNeal, re-nominated by the Republicans. Grocers and dealers generally regard him as a crank.

McKINLEY is traveling that straight and narrow path of perversion and misrepresentation which leads to political perdition, and the Democrats of Ohio will this year "plant him deep."—Mansfield Shield.

OUR financial system is a fraud and always has been. For a quarter of a century it has been conducted by the combined money power of two continents to make the rich richer and the poor poorer.—Toledo News (Ind.)

THE repeal of the Sherman act, desirable as it is, will not prevent the export of gold. So long as we purchase $10,000,000 a month of merchandise in foreign markets, more than we sell those markets gold must be scraped up and shipped to square the books.—Indianapolis Journal, (Rep.)

WALTER DAMROSCH says his Carnegie Hall concert proved that the poorer classes are more responsive to the best music than the wealthy. From first to last he found the 25 cent gallery better filled and quite as appreciative as the parquet. You cannot judge a man's taste by the length of his pocket book.

OHIO'S Grand Army members and delegates will present the name of Gen. S. H. Hurst of Chillicothe, for command in chief at the coming session at Indianapolis. Gen. Hurst was department commander of Ohio for a term, and is a soldier with a splendid battle record. He is also a man of high character.

It is estimated that it will take about three years to make the proposed improvements to our court house. In the meantime, it will be occupied and there will be no interruption of either court or county business. When completed we shall have a court house worthy of the best interior county of Ohio and the best inland city in the State.

THE silver law has much to answer for. Its repeal is demanded by every consideration of sound finance. Its existence is a constant and increasing menace to our currency, and through it to all business. But it is not the cause of all calamities, and ignorantly or recklessly to assume that it is, strengthens the hands of those who oppose its repeal.—New York World.

THE resolution of our Republican friends in favor of biennial sessions of the legislature falls very flat, when it is remembered that for forty years the provisions of the Ohio Constitution for biennial sessions has been disregarded, and for about thirty of these years the Republicans have had full control of the legislature. It looks very much like a death bed repentance.—Newark Advocate.

SECRETARY GRESHAM, in his clean sweep of Republican consuls, has stirred up an ardent Irish protest over the summary removal of John James Platt of Ohio, as Consul to Dublin, in which position he was confirmed before the Senate adjourned last spring, and a memorial is urged by the Dublin press asking his retention in the service. Mr. Platt served as Consul to Cork through the Garfield-Arthur, Cleveland and Harrison administrations, and was transferred to Dublin when Consul Reid resigned last winter. While there both he and his wife warmly endeared themselves to Ireland and it was through Cork memorials, headed by Charles Stewart Parnell, that he was retained in the service through the Cleveland and Harrison administrations. United Ireland says: "Mr. Cleveland, so far as we can judge from his public career, always endeavors to do the right thing; and we can assure him the right thing in this case is to allow Mr. Platt and his distinguished wife to remain in Dublin."

WILLIAM McKINLEY, JR., is all ready for the fight. The Democrats know what they will have to meet. Can they answer that "same old speech?"—Cleveland World.

The election returns from Ohio last November, resulting in the election of a Democratic elector, when the Democrats made no light, would seem to indicate that the "old speech" was not hard to answer.

A St. Louis woman drew $1,700 out of a savings bank and hid it in a cooking stove over night. Next morning she built a fire before she thought about her money. Result: Money gone and the earnings of twenty years lost. Our present tight money market is largely caused by foolishly timid people taking their earnings out of circulation, like the St. Louis woman.

THE Democrats of northwestern Ohio are now considering Col. Wm. E. Haynes of Fremont as a candidate for Governor. Col. Haynes has been three times elected to Congress; is a man of ability and high character, and is a soldier with a battle record. It is understood that Col. Haynes will meet prominent Democrats in Toledo in a few days and decide, after consultation on his candidacy.

A farmer's taxes in Turkey are classified thus: (1) One-tenth of all crops and fruits; (2) 4 per cent of the renting value of house and lands; (3) 5 per cent on every transfer; (4) an annual tax of 33 pence on every sheep and 21 pence on every goat. The taxes are rigorously collected. If McKinley should fail in Ohio this year, Turkey is his country. In Turkey taxes is the only statesman known.

BUCKEYES are to be envied. They can again listen to debates on the tariff question. The Republicans have thrown down the protection gauntlet—in fact they have resuscitated and thrown the only original McKinley into the ring—and there is no doubt but that the Democrats will accept the challenge by nominating some radical Democrat like Johnson, Hard, Hurd or Neal for Governor. Then the fun will begin, and slugging matches and bullfights will have lost their charm.—American Industries.

THERE would be nothing strange in the adoption of Reed's rules by a Democratic Congress. Consistency seldom competes successfully with expediency anywhere, and never in politics.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Certainly a big point would be gained by adopting Reed's rules. In the first place the entire Republican press of the country are committed to them, and Reed and all his variegated assortment of allies in the last Congress, that are left over from the billion dollar Congress, are committed to these rules as the essence of all parliamentary wisdom.

JULIAN RALPH, in Harper's Weekly for July, says: "Chicago leads New York in the employment of women in business. It is not easy to find an office or a store in which they are not at work as secretaries, accountants, cashiers, typewriters, saleswomen or clerks. It has been explained to me that women who want to do for themselves are more favored there than anywhere else. The awful fire of twenty years ago wrecked so many families, and turned so many women from lives of comfort to paths of toil, that the business men have from that day to this shown an inclination to help every woman who wants to help herself."

EX-SENATOR INGALLS, has been studying the causes of the great tidal of popular opinion that stranded the Republican party and himself with it on the ragged rocks of retribution and has this to say of the legacy of trusts bequeathed by Republican legislation to the country:

"The country now stands in an attitude of eager, if not impatient, expectancy, with its hands to its ears, waiting to hear from some national judge in some favored locality, near or remote, the accents, faint and uncertain it may be, but unmistakable, of a decision against railroad discriminations, evasions, fraud and abuses, trusts and other combinations of capital in violation of law and to the great detriment of the American people. With sugar free of duty those who bought 24 pounds for $1 a year ago and received but 17 pounds now would be pleased to know whether some proceedings might not lie against the Sugar Trust."

Two men were passing the madhouse in So. Boston yesterday afternoon when they saw a man on top of the wall, who by his gestures and actions seemed to be one of the unfortunate inmates. He "made faces" at the passers, and one of the men was in cautious enough to "make faces back." The maniac jumped down from the wall and approached them, but the two fled for their lives. They became separated, the maniac following the nearest who was getting badly winded and who was too frightened to do his best running. On they sped, pursued and pursued, and visions of violent death flew before the straining eyes of the fugitive. With every gasp he seemed to feel the fingers of the maniac clutching his windpipe. Finally he could run no more. The world reeled before his sight and he fell to the ground. With a shriek of demoralized glee the lunatic bounded on his unfortunate victim and touched him lightly on the shoulder "You're it!" quoth he.—Waltham (Mass.) Free Press.

THE government of India having suspended the free coinage of silver, a new element of doubt and discord is injected into the monetary discussion in this country. President Cleveland and his cabinet are supposed to be considering this question today. India is a creditor country, with a population of about 250,000,000 people. Her exports of merchandise and cereals largely exceed her imports. This balance in her favor has heretofore been largely settled with silver. Now if silver is demonetized and a gold standard adopted of course this balance of trade must be settled in gold. It is plain therefore that this drain of gold will seriously interfere with our gold supply, when the balance of trade, under the McKinley bill, is largely against us.

OUR FRENCH-CANADIAN COMPETITORS.

It is clear that the mass of the Canadians who are settled in New England are not rapidly becoming proprietors of the soil, their holdings, according to their own reports, being much below the average per capita assessed valuations in the six states, as appears from the census of 1890. They remain operatives in the mills and factories. A few of them are storekeepers; fewer still are physicians and lawyers. Recently the French-Canadian press in the United States, and especially in New England, has rapidly developed. This is a pretty sure sign that the active politicians are taking a decided interest in the French-Canadian vote, and are prepared to avail themselves of the customary electioneering methods for the purpose of securing it.

In 1887 there were in New England 16,906 French-Canadian voters; in 1890 the number had increased to 28,469; in 1891 it had grown to 39,693. In every one of the six states, except Vermont, votes equal in number to the solid French-Canadian vote would suffice to reverse the political supremacy if they should be transferred from the prevailing party to the minority. In the Presidential election just held this vote played an important part, especially in Massachusetts. It is said that most of the French-Canadians voted for the Democratic candidate because of the injuries inflicted on the farmers of Quebec by the McKinley tariff. However that may be, it is the fact that the French-Canadian vote was a matter of much solicitude to the politicians of both parties, and it is its growing importance in American politics that makes the immigration of interest in this country.—From "French-Canadians in New England," by Henry Loomis Nelson, in Harper's Magazine for July.

CIVIL SERVICE HUMBUNG.

A Few Pointers From the Pleasant City of Salem, Ohio.

ED. NEWS-DEMOCRAT:

The following was clipped from the Salem Daily News of June 20:

Another batch of Ohio postmasters were named yesterday, but chiefly four corner fellows with no civil service angles.—Canton Democrat.

That shows the Democratic idea of civil service reform. Fitness for office and competency to discharge its duties are as nothing beside a man's Republicanism when considered by the Cleveland administration.

How seemingly honest and conservative the News would make believe, under a Democratic administration. It talks loud and long on civil service reform, but Oh, how silent it can be on that question under a Republican administration, and Oh, how extremely mum it was when Salem's Republican postmaster removed honest, efficient and competent letter carriers in August last, simply for the reason that they were Democrats, and appointed in their stead incompetent Republicans,—ward bumpers,—that proved failures, and were compelled to step down and out on account of incompetency. "Oh, Consistency, thou art a Jewell."

And further permit me to state, that, during Cleveland's first term as President, this same Republican postmaster, who removed Democratic letter carriers, was such a staunch believer in civil service reform, and so very pliable that he held on to a position in the Postal service, as R. P. O. clerk, for four years, under a Democratic administration, seemingly well pleased with the civil service rules,—but so soon as he secured a position where he was privileged to practice his ideas of the spoils system, he did not hesitate to act, and is now very humble and pliable again.

Salem, Ohio, June 27, 1893.

AN UNBIASED OPINION.

From the East Liverpool Chronicle.

General Sherwood, the venerable editor of the Canton News-Democrat, has recently experienced some of the beauties of a judicial system conducted upon a political basis. Several weeks ago the General was the victim of a peculiarly brutal assault at the hands of J. J. Clark, a local Republican attorney. Clark was arrested, and a few days since was given a hearing before Probate Judge Fawcett, also an intensely partisan Republican. Although the testimony showed that the assault was brutal and cowardly in the extreme, the Judge could not lose sight of his partisanship, even in a judicial proceeding, and inflicted upon Clark the merely nominal punishment of thirty-five dollars. He had it in his power to fine him two hundred dollars and send him to the workhouse for sixty days, and it is safe to say that had the conditions been reversed, and Clark been a Democrat and Sherwood a Republican, the offender would have received the full extent of the law.

KLINGE NOT A CANDIDATE.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer of Monday prints an interview with Virgil P. Klinge, in which that eminent and able Democrat declines to be a candidate for Governor. Mr. Klinge is a great lawyer and does not consider a seat in the executive chair of Ohio such a dizzy elevation as to call up any ambitious dreams. Mr. Klinge thinks any good Democrat can defeat Gov. McKinley this year. He mentions Larry Neal, Walter Ritchie of Lima, Judge Hunt of Cincinnati, and John Farley of Cleveland, as available for the race, and as a citizen of Cuyahoga, favors Mr. Farley. In the interview Mr. Klinge indulges in some pertinent remarks on the economic questions involved in the canvass. Here is what he says on the much vexed silver question.

When asked if an extra session of Congress should be called to repeal the silver bill, Mr. Klinge said:

"No. It would be better to await the regular time of the session. The trouble is I do not think there would be unanimity enough for action among the Democrats of the house to make prompt and speedy work of it to make an extra session and a futile attempt would do more disaster to the party as a party than to attempt at all until the regular session. What the people of this country don't admire is a hesitancy and doubt in the solution of public questions. It wants prompt and vigorous and courageous action, and if the party isn't in shape to give the country that it had better not have an extra session."

"Do you think any action on the silver question necessary besides the repeal of the Sherman law?"

"Yes, sir. I believe that a restoration of silver to coinage and to legal tender without any discrimination would at once restore public confidence. If an honest attempt in that line were made and it were then demonstrated that silver had permanently lost its value as a debt discharging function, it would be time to return to a gold basis. Garfield was the man who was the small change of commerce, as business is done so largely on the evidence of debt. The broader the base upon which that rests the safer any business is. The silver men will concede at once that if the product of the mines is far in excess of the world's demands silver, permanently cheapened, can no longer be relied upon as a circulating medium."

Then and Now.

In another day for many an ill, we used to take a big pill, it did us surely tear and gripe, we felt for it.

Today, when sick, we take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are generally superior to strongly cathartic, according to size of dose. Cures sick headache, bilious headache, constipation, indigestion, bilious attacks, and all derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. Put up in vials, hermetically sealed, hence always fresh and reliable. Purely vegetable, operate without disturbance to the system, diet or occupation. Sold by druggists, at 25 cents a vial.

Matrimonial.

William A. Robb of near Richfield, O., and Annie Bowser of Canton, Ohio, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, East Seventh street, Canton, Ohio, June 14, 1893, by W. H. Quinn of Canton. The contracting parties are favorably known, and are held in high esteem by their friends and neighbors. After partaking of a sumptuously prepared supper they repaired to the groom's delightful home, prepared and made ready for housekeeping in advance of the wedding.

Cupsids and Mermaids Will Disappear.

That fountain in the court house park, with all its little cupid and mermaid apertures, goes to Cosboken, the county commissioners of that county having decided to purchase it, Stark county having no further use for it. Auditor Loholt received a letter today stating that Cosboken county would take the fountain at the figures agreed upon, $450.

Badly Kicked by a Horse.

James Burwell, son of Clem Burwell residing at No. 5 Wise street, was nearly fatally kicked by a horse this afternoon. The boy was leading the horse to a pasture when the animal delivered a heavy kick in the boy's right cheek. All the bones were fractured and splintered and an awful gash cut in the cheek. Dr. R. A. Biecheler attended him. He will recover.

When all other remedies have failed.

When my little girl was one month old, she had a scab form on her face. It kept spreading until she was completely covered from head to foot. Then she had boils. She had forty on her head at one time, and more on her body. When six months old she did not weigh seven pounds a pound and a half less than at birth. Then her skin started to dry up and got so bad she could not shut her eyes to sleep, but laid with them half open. About this time, at the earnest request of friends, I started using the CUTICURA Remedies, and in one month she was completely cured. The doctor and drug bills were over one hundred dollars. The CUTICURA bill was not more than five dollars. My child is now two years old, strong, healthy and large as any child of her age (see photo), and it is all owing to CUTICURA. Yours with a Mother's Blessing, MRS. GEO. H. TUCKER, JR., 335 Greenfield Avenue, Milwaukee, Wis.

Sold throughout the world. Forra Dams and Cuts. Constipation, Rheumatism, Mailed feet, "All about the Blood, Skin, Scalp, and Hair." Baby Eczema, falling hair, and red, rough hands prevented and cured by CUTICURA Soap.

A Mine Accident.

Winfield Hoffman, a miner at the Penn mine, was severely and probably fatally injured this morning by a fall of slate. He was pinned to the ground and hurt internally, at the same time dislocating and breaking his right and receiving a wound of the lower jaw and a severe cut under the right eye and other bruises. Dr. Williams, with the assistance of Dr. Barnes, attended to his injuries. The chances for his recovery are doubtful.—Massillonian.
